Letter from Grandma

Dear Tim

Thank you for your postcard telling me about your exciting holiday on the island. Did you find the person that lost the necklace in the cave?

Grandpa and I went on holiday last weekend. We stayed in a small village near a beach for two nights. But we didn't explore the beach because the weather was terrible. We went for a short walk on Saturday morning and the rain soaked our clothes very quickly. In the afternoon, there was a bad storm. It rained very heavily and the thunder and lightning were quite frightening! The waves on the beach were really high, too. On Sunday, we went to a tiny bookshop in the village and I bought a book for you and Anna. It's a book about three sailors. They found some treasure on a little island — just like you and Anna! I'm going to come to your house next Friday. I can give you the book then.
